Designed Specifically for Event Teams Like Yours

Meet the world's first rechargeable tea light system designed for large scale events and catering teams. Our patent-pending Catering and Events Collection holds up to 756 candles on a mobile platform that charges through a single power outlet and only occupies a 2' x 3' of floor space.

We get it. Until now the allure of rechargeable tea lights – saving money, minimizing waste from throw-away candles, making set up and break down more efficient and reducing fire risk – just didn't make sense for large scale operations.

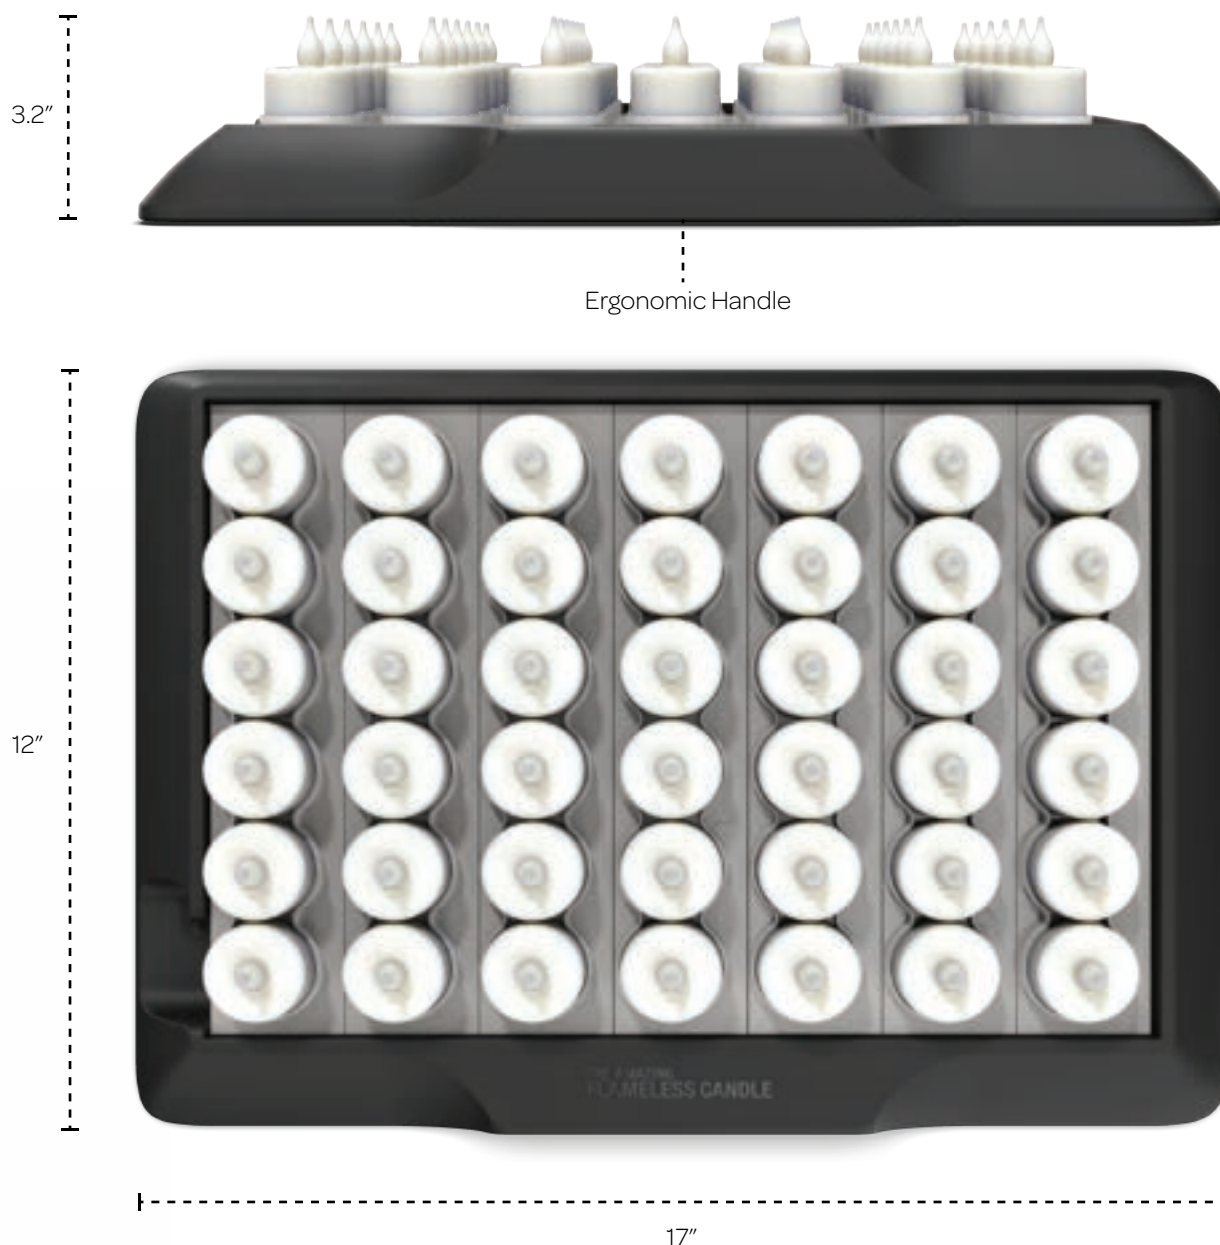

But that's all changing. Following years of product development and customer feedback, the Catering and Events Collection is the first space-efficient way to store, charge and distribute rechargeable candles. Developed by The Amazing Flameless Candle which has been making rechargeable candles for many of the most renowned hospitality brands around the world for over a decade.
